Rare Chance.

IN consequence of continued ill health, the subscriber feels compelled to relinquish his business, and will offer his property situated at the east end of Tukey's bridge known as the Steam Bakery, at private sale, until the 10th day of May, 1870, the two storied wooden building, two years old, thoroughly built of the best material, built by the day under the superintendance of that well known builder Mr. S. M. Sawyer, of Portland, of whom reference can be made as to the workmanship and materials used. The building is 40x80 feet, 23 feet posts, first story 10 feet, second story 15 feet, with a strong attic covering the whole. It is well calculated for any kind of manufacturing purposes or machine shop, it is light and airy, with a good sea breeze in summer; there is plenty of hard and soft water in the building. I will sell it with or without the ovens. Also one six horse-power engine boiler and heater in perfect running order, with or without pipes, pumps, pulleys, shafting, belting &c. Also one dough-maker, cracker machine, preparatory-rollers and six sets of cutters, likewise all the tools and utensils used in a first-class Bakery, such as bread and cake pans, jumble and meat chopping machines, troughs, break, &c., &c.

All the above were purchased new two years ago. Also platform and counter scales, and weights, marble top counter, desks, stoves, &c.

I will sell the whole or any part thereof, in lots to suit purchasers.

Notice of Appeals.

United States Internal Revenue, First Collection District of Maine, Assessor's Office, 59 Exchange Street, Portland, April 1, 1870.

NOTICE is hereby given that, at the Office of the Assessor of said District, in Portland, in the County of Cumberland, on TUESDAY, the 19th day of April, A. D. 1870, at 9 of the clock in the forenoon, Appeals will be received and determined by me, the undersigned, relative to any erroneous or excessive valuation, assessments or enumerations, by the Assessor of said District, or by the Assistant Assessor of any division or assessment district within said First Collection District, returned in the annual list for the year 1870.

The law prescribing the duty of Assessors in relation to Appeals, provides that "All appeals to the Assessor shall be made in writing, and shall specify the particular case, matter or thing respecting which a decision is requested, and shall state the ground or principle of error complained of."

The 9th Section of the Act of Congress, approved July 13, 1866, amending what is known as the Internal Revenue Law, requires each Postmaster to whom this notice is sent to post the same in his office.

50 Year Bonds!

At 95 Flat.

TRUSTEES:—I. EDGAR THOMPSON, Philad'phia. CHARLES L. FROST, New York.

These Bonds are payable, principal and interest, in coin, at New York or London; the interest being payable in May and November.

They are convertible into Stock, and are protected by a liberal Sinking Fund.

They are issued upon the several sections of the road only as the same are completed and in successful operation.

They are guaranted not only by a first lien upon the entire property and franchises of the Company, but also by now current earnings, and an ample commerce on the route of the road, and have not to depend for their security upon a traffic which the road itself is expected to create.

Over Three Million Dollars have been already expended on the road.

Eighty-three miles of road are already completed and equipped, and show large earnings; and the remainder of the line is progressing rapidly toward completion.

The State of Iowa, through which this road runs is one of the richest agricultural sections of America. Its large and extending population, and its immense yield of agricultural products create a pressing demand for the construction of this road.

The road also runs through the fertile and growing State of Minnesota. It traverses the most enterprising and growing portion of the West, and forms the shortest of the great trunk lines in direct communication with New York, Chicago, and St. Louis.

Having thoroughly investigated all the conditions affecting the security of these Bonds, we feel justified in giving them an unqualified indorsement as a first-class and thoroughly safe investment, as secure as a Government Bond can possibly be, and paying nearly 50 per cent. more interest than Five-Twenties.

All marketable securities at their full price, free of commission and express charges, received in payment. Pamphlets and maps furnished on application.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of Scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and unfelt tenant of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develop into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may be suddenly deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcerations on some part of the body. Hence the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and, at length, cure, by the use of this SARSAPARILLA: St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other eruptions or visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and the various Ulcerous affections of the muscular and nervous systems.

Syphilis or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing these obstinate maladies by any medicine. But long continued use of this medicine will cure the complaint. Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations, and Female Diseases, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute Directions for each case are found in our Almanac, supplied gratis. Rheumatism and Gout, when caused by accumulations of extraneous matters in the blood, yield quickly to it, as also Liver Complaints, Torpidity, Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and Jaundice, when arising, as they often do, from the rankling poisons in the blood. This SARSAPARILLA is a great restorer for the strength and vigor of the system. Those who are Languid and Listless, Despondent, Sleepless, and troubled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, or any of the affections symptomatic of Weakness, will find immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

Valuable Saw Mill

— AND —

Extensive Timber Limits

FOR SALE.

The proprietors offer for sale the extensive establishment known as "BREAKEY'S MILLS," situated on the river Chaudiere, together with the large tracts of valuable Pine and other timber lands held in connection therewith.

The deals sawn at these mills are known to be the best in quality in the Quebec and English Markets, and the mill itself was during the last year entirely renewed and supplied with the latest improvements.

The property is distant from the city of Quebec only about fifteen miles, and five miles from the river St. Lawrence where a valuable site, within the Harbor of Quebec, is owned for shipping the deals.

Altogether this property offers a rare and valuable investment to capitalists, and, if not sooner sold, the whole will be offered at public auction, in this city, on the fifteenth day of August next.

Applications to purchase will be received, and all information given by

Mr. WILLIAM BREAKEY, at the mill, or

An International Tribunal.

Hitherto nations have settled their disputes as they arose either by negotiation or war. Nations are now in the same situation as individuals were before the establishment of civil society. Then there was no tribunal to settle the disputes between individuals as there is now none to settle the disputes between nations. So far as concerns individuals the state of barbarism in which every man was the avenger of his own wrongs, the weak being consequently unavenged, is in a great degree past. It is seldom that individuals take the law into their own hands except when society fails to give them complete protection as is usually the case when domestic rights are invaded or sudden violence attempted. But that which has come to be the exception with individuals is still the rule between nations. Each nation is in general the sole guardian of its own rights and if attacked or injured can rarely count upon more than the moral support of the great family of nations. In spite of our boasted civilization we are living in an epoch of international barbarism. War is not always wicked but it is always barbarous, and we cannot say with truth that we have wholly emerged from barbarism till some method is devised by which justice may be done between nations without disturbing the peace.

A state of international order will not be attained till more imposing sanctions are attached to the law of nations, and until as in the case of individuals a tribunal is established which shall command general confidence in the rectitude of its decisions and be armed with sufficient authority and power to enforce its decrees. The greater certainty of getting justice done under such a system, if it be practicable, would make it vastly preferable to the war system, and commend it to general acceptance except by those nations which aim to aggrandize themselves by a policy of wholesale aggression. The experience of the United States suggests much as to the possibility of extending the federative system to the world. Events are not yet ripe for so grand and comprehensive an organization, but "in the fullness of time" when commerce and the contact of vast moral forces have brought men to unity upon a higher level it will be attainable, and it is not mere presumption to prophesy that it will be attained. Any one who carefully studies the gradual progress of the American colonies to national unity will not despair of the vaster unity of mankind. Our political system has moulded into one all the diverse nationalities which participated in the colonization of our territory. Whether French Dutch, Spaniards, or English they have become or are becoming thoroughly Americanized, and the process of assimilation is extending to the multitudes of every race and nation who are now tributary to our national growth.

The war system is enormously expensive. In 1863 Europe with a population of 299,494,000 had 3,815,217 men under arms or one to every 77 of the population, at an annual cost of $168.87 per man or $644,283,888 in all. The total indebtedness of all these nations is given by Amasa Walker at $10,000,000,000 In the wars in the early part of the present century, $13,000,000,000, or a sum nearly equal to the whole national wealth of the United States in 1860, was spent in twenty-two years. The armed peace of Europe at the present time is but little less costly than war. Out of a total expenditure between 1834 and 1861 of £1,125,689,000 England paid £966,303,000 or more than eighty-five per cent. either for keeping up the military establishment or for interest on the debt created by former wars. With these vast sums rightly directed the ignorant might have been educated, the vicious reclaimed, renumerative employment provided for the idle, and multitudes saved from destitution, dependence, and crime. In short a new life might have been breathed into society.

One of the great problems of future statesmanship will be found the Confederation of the world. It is a task compared with which the formation of the American Union was an ordinary achievement. But time will develop the means and the men. Proud will be laurels of those who participate in organizing the reign of universal peace.

Polical Notes.

The Republican State Committee meets at Bangor this evening, and the time for holding the State Convention will probably be fixed upon.

A number of Washington correspondents express much doubt in regard to the passage of the tariff bill this session. "Van" of the Springfield Republican says: "There is no chance of getting it through the House before May, and the Senate finance committee will consider it a month, and it will then be too late for this session. It is quite probable that some time in June somebody will get into the House a short tax and tariff bill including only a few items and making a reduction of fifty millions on those items. Short bills of that character could be driven through Congress in a fortnight."

The Judiciary Committee has reported against the proposition to add two more justices to the Supreme Court.

The Portland correspondent of the Boston Advertiser says that many Democrats talk openly in favor of Gov. Chamberlain as a compromise candidate for the Senate.

The election committee still has eighteen contested cases to settle, viz.: one from Colorado, one from Alabama, one from Arkansas, one from Virginia, one from Indiana, one from North Carolina, one from Ohio, one from Texas, two from Kentucky, two from Tennessee, two from South Carolina, two from Louisiana, and two from Missouri.

Vallandigham is said to cherish Congressional aspirations still.

It is reported that Samuel Bowles of the Springfield Republican, is about to establish a newspaper in New York for the special advocacy of the claims of Hon. Schuyler Colfax for the next Presidency.

Mrs. Grant refused to join the anti-woman suffrage movement that has been started in Washington by Mrs. Admiral Dahlgreen.

The Bangor Jeffersonian, after giving a not very accurate account of the views of Maine journals on the Governor question, says it goes for the man who gets the nomination.

Gov. Smith of Alabama is determined to suppress political crimes and outrages in that State, and has issued a proclamation in which he says that in addition to other more prompt means recently employed, the executive has determined to organize at least one company of militia for continuous active service in each of the said counties, until satisfactory evidence is adduced that life, liberty and property are entirely safe from lawless violence. He also invites law-abiding citizens to give him full information as to the efficiency or inefficiency of the civil officers in those counties, and to suggest the name of firm and efficient men for any vacancies in such civil offices. He argues that it is right that the expenses of putting down outrages upon life, liberty and property should be imposed upon and paid by the people of the respective counties in which they occur, and continues:

It the people of any county connive at such outrages in their own county; if they fail to become active in their exposure, suppression and punishment, they deserve to be taxed with all the expenses incurred in their exposure, suppression and punishment.

The Thirty-Ninth State.—There is really a serious movement towards bringing New Mexico into the Union as a State. The New York World is in an agony of terror at the idea, fearing that the new State will be a reinforcement to the Radicals.

Prepare to Dodge—An Iowa chap of an investigating turn of mind has sent out word that there is a comet on its way that is going to play the very dickens with this little planet of ours presently. He says it is going to pass around the sun once, just for a flyer and then pass so near the earth as to destroy its gravitation entirely, and it will go off as a bob to this etherial kite; and after awhile things will go to eternal smash, the world is to be reconstructed, and we shall all have a new deal for chances. To show that this is no idle tale we print the prediction:

"As it is given to me, a comet is approaching our solar system, unlooked for by astronomers. It will appear within twenty years, perhaps within five. It is about 300,000 miles in diameter, and is more than three times as heavy as our earth. At a distance it will look like fire. It will pass around the sun, and on its return from him will pass so near the earth as to drag her from her orbit, and she will take her march after it toward unknown space. How many years can she travel from the sun without congealing all life? If the people on the earth are organized as directed, so that the angel-world can fasten to her, they can hold her in her position, and the comet will fall back upon her, and chemically change her atmosphere and water, so that no animal life will any longer remain except in those human beings in whom moral force predominates. They will then require but one-tenth of the food which they now use, and will live ten times as long. But the angels will thus save the world, only with the concurrence of its inhabitants. And they will defer the matter of help until the world has moved about 50,000,000 miles forther from the sun than it now is."

General News.

A meeting of Canadian annexationists has been called to meet at Niagara Falls on the 4th of July.

Reliable estimates of the last cotton crop have now been made and they fix the amount at not far from three million bales.

The Toronto Globe says that it becomes more and more evident that Tache the Catholic Bishop of the Red River Territory, is really the responsible head of the Winnipeg Rebellion, and that Riel is only his tool.

The Worcester & Nashua Rrilroad Company has commenced laying a double track, and expect to have it completed as far ns Groton Junction in less than a year.

A discarded lover, hailing from Brooklyn, N. Y., recently pursued his promised bride to the family of Gov. Randolph, at Morristown, N. J., whither she fled to escape his importunities, and made a desperate attempt to take her life. A few months ago the lady was engaged to be married to the would-be murderer, receiving his visits at her father's house in Brooklyn. The father of the girl is wealthy, and was a general in the Union army during the late war. Apartments were fitted up under the paternal roof, at a cost of $6000, for the young couple, whose monograms marked every piece of the elegant furniture. Extensive preparations were made for the wedding, invitations were sent out, and no one for a moment entertained a doubt of a marriage. Two days before the eventful day the bride that was to be learned that her promised husband was a person with whom she could not consent to trust her happiness. She immediately broke the engagement, and ordered her suitor never to appear before her again, when he attempted to stab her in her father's presence. She escaped, and being again threatened went to visit the family of Gov. Randolph. Her suitor presented himself at the door of the Governor's mansion a day or two afterward, demanding admission. Having seen him approaching, the girl gave orders to bar the door. Then he attempted to smash the door, and finally, it is said, fired upon his affianced through the window.

Four young Washingtonians of Irish parentage, who served in the regular army during the war as non-commissioned officers, have left for the Red River territory, and it is rumored that they are connected with a Fenian movement in that direction.

Parties just arrived from the plains states that there are prospects of a stormy campaign with the Indians, as soon as the grass becomes high enough to feed their ponies. The most serious apprehensions are felt for the safety of the Pacific Railroad. Settlers are on the alert to guard against surprise, but the protection of the road through so large an extent of country as the tribes will roam is impracticable. A superstitious dread of rails, which has deterred depredations to a great extent heretofore, does not now exist. A half-breed, educated in St. Louis, who some months ago killed a white man and fled to the Sioux for refuge has instructed the savages in the means to be employed to obstruct the road and throw trains from the track, to take up rails and otherwise interfere with the line.

It is rumored there is a duel on the tapis between Col. T. S. Jones, Member of Congress from the Sixth District of Kentucky, and Colonel Hawkins of Louisville. The difficulty between them was caused by a card published recently in the Louisville Courier-Journal by Col. Jones, in which he denounced as a liar and scoundrel anyone who ascribed to him the authorship of the report that Senator McCreery recommended Gen. S. G. Burbridge for office during Johnson's administration. It is understood that Colonel Jones told Mrs. Hawkins of the McCreery-Burbridge affair, and her husband thus became acquainted with the facts and reported the statement to Gen. Stevenson.

The month of April is crowded with rebellion anniversaries. The war began and ended in April. On April 3, Richmond was taken; April 9, Lee surrendered; April 14, Lincoln was assassinated; on April 15, he died. On April 12, began the bombardment of Fort Sumter. On April 15, again, Lincoln made his first call for troups. On April 19, the Sixth Massachusetts Regiment was fired into in the streets of Baltimore, and the first blood of the war shed.

Three boys, from ten to fifteen years of age, went out in a skiff on Saturday from Dubuque, Iowa, hunting ducks, and were carried down the river thirty miles by the strong current. Great excitement prevailed for fear they would be drowned. The parents chartered the steamer "Clark" to go in search of them, but the boys returned Sunday afternoon after abandoning their boat and walking all night and day before reaching home.

A number of prominent citizens of Chicago appeal to the Constitutional Convention for immediate adoption of an amendment to the constitution of the State providing for a better government of that city. They say: "A thorough trial of the present system has proved it utterly unworthy of continuance, and we favor a simple executive government under judicial supervision in place of the present regular legislative bodies, and we assure you of our hearty co-operation in the great work; and we wish you to understand that the whole community is alarmed by recent events, and will await the results of your endeavors with deep anxiety."

The Explosion of the Raven—A Hero.—The following incidents are taken from an account of the explosion on board the steamer Raven, near Cincinnati last Friday night, by which quite a number of men were killed and wounded:

With a tremendous roar the cabin, from several feet aft of the pilot house to the front, leaped into the air, amid smoke, ashes, steam and fire, and went crashing over, with the tall chimneys, into one of the barges alongside. Shrieks and groans broke out into the silence that for a moment succeeded the awful catastrophe. Men cried from beneath the wreck or moaned in helpless agony. The hull and its barges were floating down the river. In the darkness and confusion, those of the crew not disabled were stunned and bewildered. What could they do? There was no means of reaching the shore. The yawl had been blown away, and the wreck was floating into the current.

Joshua Tucker, a man of brawny limbs and stout heart, heard the roar of the explosion from his floating house moored a few hundred yards below the scene, arose from his bed, attired hastily, and with his son set out without delay to the rescue. Guided to the place by the cries for help and the moans of pain, the rowers with their skiff soon got view of the dark, floating mass from whence the dismal sounds proceeded. They found a man struggling in the water, took him to their home, gave him shelter, went back, saved another man from a grave in the Ohio, and then returned to the wreck. It was still floating down stream. With his cooler head he directed the able-bodied on board and managed to get a line ashore, and to check the progress of the barges just opposite the foot of Butler street. Before any one could be got ashore the wreck sunk out of sight, leaving the barges afloat. Before this time James Kennedy and Peter Sharp had come to the rescue and were on the barges working to get Captain DeWolf from beneath the ruins. Exactly how those escaped who got ashore no one in the confusion could tell.

Joshua Tucker, the big-souled, broad-shouldered man who first went to the rescue, said the first articulate sounds he heard from the wreck were the words, "For God's sake come and help us," repeated with a half-despairing pathos that was deeply moving. This Joshua Tucker, when all were saved who could be found, was scarcely able to stand from sheer exhaustion.

The McFarland Murder Trial progresses slowly, and the prosecution is making just as much effort as if it were not a forgone conclusion that the prisoner would be acquitted. If anything can be established by precedent, it is established in the United States that a homicide committed by a husband upon the supposed seducer of his wife is a justifiable action. After the Sickles trial, the Cole trial and numerous others that every one will recall to mind it is not likely that a new theory will be adopted in the present case.

To England and Back in Four Hours.—The Lewiston Journal says that on Saturday at quarter past 9 o'clock A. M., A. D. Lockwood, Esq., sent a telegram to England, by cable, inquiring as to the shipment of the cotton slashers, of which he is the agent in this country. At 1:45 P. M., he received a telegram from England giving the information. Thus in four and a half hours a despatch was sent to England and an answer returned.

The Republican State Committee will meet this evening at Bangor, and will probably agree upon the day and the basis of a call for a State Convention, to nominate a candidate for Governor. It has already been decided that the Convention shall be held at Augusta.

From Mark Twain.

The New Crime.

LEGISLATION NEEDED.

This country, during the last thirty years, has produced some of the most remarkable cases of insanity of which there is any mention in history. For instance, there was the Baldwin case, in Ohio, twenty-two years ago. Baldwin from his boyhood up, had been of a vindictive, malignant, quarrelsome nature. He put a boy's eye out once, and never was heard upon any occasion, to utter a regret for it. He did many such things. But at last he did something that was serious. He called at a house just after dark one evening, knocked, and when the occupant came to the door, shot him dead and then tried to escape but was captured. Two days before, he had wantonly insulted a helpless cripple, and the man he afterward took swift vengeance upon him with an assssin bullet, knocked him down. Such was the Baldwin case. The trial was long and exciting; the community was fearfully wrought up. Men said this spiteful, bad-hearted villain had caused grief enough in his time, and now he should satisfy the law. But they were mistaken. Baldwin was insane when he did the deed—they had not thought of that. By the arguments of counsel it was shown that at half past ten in the morning on the day of the murder, Baldwin became insane, and remained so for eleven hours and a half exactly. This just covered the case comfortably, and he was acquitted. Thus, if an unthinking and excited community had been listened to instead of the arguments of counsel, a poor crazy creature would have been held to a fearful responsibility for a mere freak of madness. Baldwin went clear, and although his relatives and friends were naturally incensed against the community for their injurious suspicions and unkind remarks, they said let it go for this time, and did not prosecute.—The Baldwins were very wealthy. This same Baldwin had momentary fits of insanity twice afterward, and on both occasions killed people he had grudges against. And on both these occasions the circumstances of the killing was so aggravated, and the murders so seemingly heartless and treacherous, that if Baldwin had not been insane he would have been hanged without the shadow of a doubt. As it was, it required all his political and family influence to get him clear in one of the cases, and cost him not less than $10,000 to get clear in the other. One of these men he had notoriously been threatening to kill for twelve years. The poor creature happened, by the merest piece of ill-fortune, to come along, a [illegible] Baldwin's insanity came upon him, and so he was shot in the back with a gun loaded with slugs. It was exceedingly fortunate for Baldwin that his insanity came on him just when it did.

Take the case of Lynch Hackett, of Pennsylvania. Twice, in public he attacked a German butcher by the name of Bemis Feldner, with a cane, and both times Feldner whipped him with his fists. Hackett was a vain, wealthy, violent gentleman, who held his blood and family in high esteem and believed that a reverent respect was due his great riches. He brooded over the shame of his chastisement for two weeks, and then, in a momentary fit of insanity armed himself to the teeth, rode into town, waited a couple of hours until he saw Feldner coming down the street with his wife on his arm, and then, as the couple passed the doorway in which he had partially concealed himself, he drove a knife into Feldner's neck, killing him instantly. The widow caught the limp form and eased it to the earth. Both were drenched with blood. Hackett jocosely remarked to her that as a professional butcher's recent wife she could appreciate the artistic neatness of the job that left her in a condition to marry again in case she wanted to. This remark, and another which he made to a friend, that his position in society made the killing of an obscure citizen simply an "eccentricity" instead of a crime, were shown to be evidences of insanity, and so Hackett escaped punishment. The jury were hardly inclined to accept these as proofs, at first, inasmuch as the prisoner had never been insane before the murder, and under the tranquilizing effect of the butchering had immediately regained his right mind—but when the defence came to show that a third cousin of Hackett's wife's stepfather was insane, and not only insane, but had a nose the very counterpart of Hackett's, it was plain that insanity was hereditary in the family, and Hackett had come to it by legitimate inheritance. Of course the jury then acquitted him. But it was a merciful providence that Mrs. H.'s people had been afflicted as shown, else Hackett would certainly have been hanged.

There was that youth in Pennsylvania, whose curious confession was published a year ago. It was simply a conglomeration of incoherent drivel from beginning to end—and so was his lengthy speech on the scaffold afterward. For a whole year he was haunted with a desire to disfigure a certain young woman so that no one would want to marry her. He did not love her himself, and did not want to marry her, but he did not want anybody else to do it. He would not go anywhere with her, and yet was opposed to anybody else's escorting her. Upon one occasion he declined to go to a wedding with her, and when she got other company, lay in wait for the couple by the road, intending to make them go back or kill the escort. After spending sleepless nights over his ruling desire for a full year, he at last attempted its execution—that is, attempted to disfigure the young woman. It was a success. It was permanent. In trying to shoot her cheek (as she sat at the supper table with her parents and brothers and sisters) in such a manner as to mar its comeliness, one of his bullets wandered a little out of the course and she dropped dead. To the very last moment of his life he bewailed the ill luck that made her move her face just at the critical moment. And so he died apparently about half persuaded that somehow it was chiefly her own fault that she got killed. This idiot was hanged. The plea of insanity was not offered.

The recent case of Lady Mordaunt, in England, had proved beyond cavil that the thing we call common prostitution in America is only insanity in Great Britain. Her husband wanted a divorce, but as her cheerful peculiarities were the offspring of lunacy and consequently she could not be held responsible for them, he had to take her to his bosom again. It is sad to think of a dozen or two of great English lords taking the advantgae of a poor crazy woman. In this country, if history be worth anything to judge by, the husband would have rented a graveyard and stocked it, and then brought the divorce suit afterward. In which case the jury would have brought him in insane, not his wife.

Really, what we want now, is not laws against crime, but a law against insanity. There is where the true evil lies.

And the penalty attached should be imprisonment, not hanging. Then, it might be worth the trouble and expense of trying the Gen. Coleses, and the Gen. Sickleses and the McFarlands, because juries might lock them up for brief terms, in deference to the majesty of the law; but it is not likely that any of us will ever live to see the murderer of any seducer hanged. Perhaps, if the truth were confessed, few of us wish to live that long.

Major Hulburt, father-in-law of the late Gen. Rawlins, was thrown from his carriage at Danbury, Ct., on Friday, and received such injuries that he died on Sunday.

The Russian government has decided to admit women to the lectures in the medical department of St. Petersburg. They are not to take degrees, but will be allowed to practice.

A Middletown, Ct., man was so annoyed at seeing several men at work with their teams near the church on Sunday that he called on one of the grand jurors to enter a complaint; but, alas! he found him tapping his boots.

The soldiers of the North-western Pennsylvania regiments are arranging for a reunion in Erie in June, and have invited Gen. Joshua L. Chamberlain and Gen. Daniel Butterfield, and members of the 44th New York regiment to attend it.

It is reported that an immense "pigeon roost" has been established in Pennsylvania, commencing about six miles east of Sheffield, on the Philadelphia & Erie railroad, and extending for nearly one hundred miles, covering a tract of country some six miles in width.

Last Saturday it was reported in Boston that Sch Mary Allen, had gone ashore and was a wreck on Chelsea Beach. It now appears that the story was a hoax, invented to attract a large number of visitors to the Beach on Sunday.

A new husband in Wisconsin, the other day, made his first purchases, consisting of five cents' worth of soda, five cents' worth of salt, two cents' worth of pepper and one cents' worth of chewing gum, and remarked, as he received his bundles, that "keeping house is cheaper than boarding."

Bark Stella, just arrived at Boulogne, reports that on the 20th of March, during a heavy squall, a ball of fire struck the forecastle-deck and exploded, scattering sparks in all directions, and making a noise resembling the bursting of a cannon.

The new liquor law goes into effect next Saturday—thirty days after the adjournment of the Legislature. Dealers in intoxicating fluids will do well to set their houses in order, for the day of wrath is at hand.

News by the Latest Mails.

It is stated that the officers of the Fenian army held a secret meeting in New York, Monday, at which instructions were delivered to all relative to the projected raid on Canada.—Major Gen. Spear is to command the whole force. A large body of Fenians leave to morrow night for some unknown point. Twenty thousand stand of arms have been received by the Fenians, part of them being distributed in Vermont and a large number have recently been shipped from Chicago to a point near the Red River country. It is believed that a part of the Fenian programme is to resist the Winnipeg revolutionists and also to make a raid on Montreal when the volunteers have been sent to the Red River country.

The storm of rain the past few days has extinguished the fires that were raging in the woods on Long Island. Several families have had very narrow escape from the conflagration there, and the mother and daughter of Mr. O'Niel whose dwelling was burned near Islip were obliged to flee through a perfect gauntlet of flames, receiving considerable injury therefrom. Their dwelling was totally destroyed.

James Ramsey, living between Greenville and Hennepin, Ill., was arrested Saturday for violating his daughter, and while being conveyed to prison was seized by a mob and hung. Ramsey has been suspected of having poisoned his wife two years ago and burned his barn to secure the insurance.

In the U. S. Court in Boston, Tuesday, a motion for a new trial was made in the case of Capt. S. Skolfield of the ship Lydia Skolfield, who was convicted last week of cruelty to a seaman named Mitchell. Mitchell was put on trial for an assault with a knife on Llewellyn Morse, the mate of the ship.

The California Fruit Trade.—The San Francisco Bulletin of the 8th says the prospect of the fruit crop of 1870 is most promising throughout the State. Most of the fruit-growers anticipate that it will be one-third in excess of that of last year, and therefore the largest yet known in California. The anxiety, unfortunately, of California fruit-growers is not with regard to the quality which will be produced, but how to dispose of it. The home fruit market cannot consume much more than one-fourth of the crop, and unless the East comes to its rescue large quantities of fruit must rot beneath the trees. Last year thousands of tons of fruit were lost. The home market being inadequate to its consumption, our dealers turned their attention toward the vast and insatiable market of the Eastern States, and endeavored there to dispose of our enormous surplus. But the tariff imposed by the railroad companies offered an insurmountable obstacle, and unless it be in some measure modified this year, we will be as badly off as ever for a market for this commodity. Our shippers are willing to guarantee that, if the railroad will transport their fruit at $500 per car-load, they will ship this season between 3000 and 4000 tons of fruit, on which the freight, at the rate mentioned, will amount to between $150,000 and $200,000. On the other hand, if the rates of last year be maintained, they will not ship more than two or three car-loads, and it is doubtful if even that amount will be risked.

Tariffs are prolific sources of discord everywhere—even in the Dominion of Canada. The St. Croix Courier, published at St. Stephen, N. B., says that the new Dominion tariff is protective, notwithstanding the protestations of Sir Francis Hincks to the contrary. In conclusion the Courier makes the following loud talk: "The wheat growers of Ontario and the coal producers of Nova Scotia are protected by the imposition of duties on their particular products, but none of the industries of New Brunswick are similarly favored. It these things go on the Government will raise a spirit of discontent in New Brunswick that will be harder to allay than the quondam murmurings of Nova Scotia. If we may judge by the example of our sister province the best way to have proper consideration shown to us is to begin to talk treason. Then, probably, our interests might receive some share of official regard."

The Red River Expedition.—An Ottawa letter says that Col. Wolseley, who is to command the Red River expedition is a young man, only 37, but has seen service in New Zealand, Caffraria, the Indian Mutiny and the Crimean War. He has been five times wounded and wears seven medals; is a first class officer, brilliant, and withal solid. The expedition under him will consist of 600 British regulars and 1,400 volunteers. The latter will be selected from the various militia corps in the Dominion, mustered in a camp of instruction, and formed into special regiments and companies. Three hundred armed police, trained to act as cavalry or infantry, as occasion may demand, will accompany the expedition, under command of Capt. Cameron. A steel or bronze battery will also form a part of the force. The volunteers are to be called out for three years, and it is believed that the majority of them will remain in the country as actual settlers. The police are to be stationed at various posts throughout the settlement.

General Anderson, the defender of Fort Sumter, who is now in France, has made himself the object of severe censure by his display of interest in Prince Pierre Bonaparte, the murderer. Gen. Anderson, it appears, was the first to rush to the bloodthirsty Corsican's hotel, after his acquittal, leaving there his card on which were written his hearty congratulations.

Wendell Phillips is more moderate in his statements than he gets credit for. He told his hearers at Horticultural Hall, Sunday, that if they would give him ten million dollars he would start a newspaper and make it a good one.

ANDROSCOGGIN COUNTY.

There is an unusual amount of sickness at Lewiston just now, diphtheria, scarlet fever and influenza being the prevailing diseases.

The Bates Manufacturing Company used from Nov. 1853 to Nov. 1859, 31,205,146 pounds of cotton, costing $8,887,133. The price has varied 12 cents in 1854 to $1 10 in 1860.

AROOSTOOK COUNTY.

The Aroostook people are a lively folk. Already they have began to consider who shall represent them in the State Senate next winter, and, as usual, everything hinges on the railroad question. The Sunrise nominates Wm. Irish of Sherman, formerly a member of the House.

PENOBSCOT COUNTY.

In compliance with the proclamation of City Marshal Wingate, the hotels, apothecary shops and saloons in Bangor closed their bars on Tuesday and suspended the sale of intoxicating drinks altogether, including ale and all kinds of malt liquors. The Mayor called the police force together on Monday evening and gave them positive instructions to prosecute every case of violation of the new liquor law coming under their observation. The hotels are also forbidden to furnish spirituous liquors to their guests in their private rooms.

PISCATAQUIS COUNTY.

There is good sleighing from Monson to Greenville.

Our correspondent writes that on the 15th inst., at Parkman, S. T. Merrill and Horace McDaniels undertook to ascertain which could chop the more wood in a given time, for a purse of ten dollars. The purse was won by Merrill, who came out "6 feet" ahead in one "straight heat." Time 5 hours.

SAGADAHOC COUNTY.

The Bath Advocate says that an unseemly collision occurred on the street, Friday, between a couple of the solid men of Topsham. Kicks, cuffs and spitting in the face were some of the compliments exchanged. A large money transaction was at the bottom of the difficulty.

The Times declares that it will not do for Bath to rely upon the revival of shipbuilding for a renewal of its prosperity, but that it must encourage manufactures.

The Times is informed that the arrangements for running the Boston boats this season are as follows: The Queen will run for about three weeks, until the Star is put in thorough trim for the summer campaign, when that boat will be put on and the Queen withdrawn for a fortnight or three weeks for repairs, after which, both boats will run the same as last season.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Help for the Miserable.

No wonder that the face of the dyspeptic has a dragged, worn, hopeless expression that is pitiful to see. No wonder that the miserable martyr to indigestion is fretful, irritable, and unsocial. Whoever can bear the pangs of this tormenting complaint cheerfully, and with an unruffled temper, is little short of a saint. But why should human fortitude continue to be thus severely tried, when an absolute specific for the disease is always at hand. Everywhere within the limits of civilization in this hemisphere Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is obtainable, and the history of the first case of dyspepsia in which it has been administered in vain, has yet to be written. The sick headness at the stomach, the sense of weakness and stupor, the feeling of emptiness and hollowness before eating, and of oppression afterwards, the fluttering of the pulse, the intense nervous irritation, the morbid indisposition to exertion, the weariness of life and indifference to all its pleasures, which are among the symptoms of the disease in its chronic form are rapidly ameliorated by the tonic operation of this palatable vegetable restorative, which seems to renovate and quicken all the dormant forces of the system, and rouse the mind from the apathy and gloom inseparable from a derangement of the digestive and secretive functions. In ordinary cases a few weeks suffices to complete the cure, but when the disease is complicated, as it often is, with torpidity of the liver, severe constipation, impurity of the blood, and a sluggish circulation, a longer time may be required. Perseverance, however, and the result is certain. An encouraging improvement will be perceptible from day to day, and the convalescent, knowing and feeling that he or she is on the high road to health, will await the happy issue with comparative patience. ap18

Brief Jottings.

By mistake the name of the prisoner Gerard was inserted for the name of officer Gribben in yesterday morning's issue.

The meeting in reference to the 16th amendment at the Public Library Rooms this evening will be one of great interest.

Chas. S. Gurney, driver of one of Blake's bread carts was knocked down the hatchway of steamer Chesapeake on Monday, by some barrels of fish swinging against him and fell a distance of some twenty feet, dislocating a wrist and ankle.

Dirigo 8 are to give a grand Fancy Dress and Fireman's ball at Harmon's Hall to-night. The Dirigo's boys generally put things through in style and the ball to-night will draw out one of the jolliest crowds of the season. Remember it is for the benefit of a very worthy man.

This afternoon's exhibition of Gee & Harnden's Dancing School will present one of the most beautiful spectacles to the artistic eye than can possibly be imagined. Let every seat at Congress Hall be filled.

There is good sense in this "new motto for merchants:"

"Late to bed and early to rise,
Never get tight—and advertise."

"Shoo Fly!" makes a good galop, and a good galop makes a shoe fly. How's that for high?

The Grecian bend, the chignon, the Alexandra limp,
The waist pinch'd tight, the hair let down that tongs are made to crimp,
The bounets of a single rose, the high heel'd boots; how vast,
Poor Pater-familias thunders out, "For mercy's sake what next?"

Not affected by the weather—the youth who stood under our counting-room window for at least five minutes yesterday morning in the midst of a pouring rain whistling "Love among the roses" with variations.

The man in this city who had an invoice of some four hundred umbrellas about a week ago must have found them a profitable speculation.

It rained yesterday.

Portland had an e-leg-trick shock last night.

In the Supreme Court yesterday, in a case brought by a woman against a town for injuries received from a defective highway, a physician testified that the plaintiff wore eight pairs of unmentionables at the time of the accident, and that he had to set the broken limb with them all on.

The ladies of the First Baptist Church hold a fair and levee at the vestry this afternoon and evening. Fancy articles and flowers will be for sale; also an abundance of refreshments.

Gov. Chamberlain was in town yesterday.

Owing to the storm several vessels drifted from their moorings Monday night, and a brig struck one of the wharves, but not much damage was sustained. The boats of the mud-digger were filled and one scow went adrift.

A remonstrance against the passage of any act for the continuance of the "income tax" has been started in this city, and is being numerously signed. It may be found at the Merchant's Exchange.

Eleven stage lines connect with the Portland & Rochester Railroad between Portland and Alfred.

The Saco river at sunset last night was higher than it has been before this year, and still rising. Considerable anxiety was felt in regard to the safety of some of the mills and other property on its banks.

Schooner Highlander, for Salem, laden with bark, and lying at Widgery's wharf, took fire Tuesday morning, but the flames were extinguished without a general alarm. Damage comparatively trifling.

LISA WEBER AND THE BLONDES.—If any of our citizens doubted the popularity of the leg drama, they needed only to step into Portland Theatre last night to have their doubts removed. The mere fact that every one of the orchestra chairs had been engaged the morning previous to the performance, will give the public some idea of the audience last night. We may bring forward all the arguments we like as to the immorality of a performance where women make a point of appearing in public almost in the same state of "nature unadorned" that was cultivated by our first parents; but so long as the people crowd to see them, and the greenbacks accumulate in the theatrical treasury in consequence, just so long will the blondes continue to display themselves on the stage. Theatricals are, like all other business, a matter of dollars and cents, and when the nude drama ceases to draw then will the golden haired beauties drape themselves in long garments and either vanish from the public gaze or return to the legitimate walks of the profession.

The entertainment last evening contained much that was amusing, and considerable that could have been omitted without loss. The burlesque of Ixion, like most all burlesques, contains some bright jokes and a great deal that is pointless and stale. But then the audience never care about that. They go to see legs, and legs of all kinds and of every degree of excellence were profusely displayed. Miss Weber possesses a handsome figure, dresses richly and tastefully, (what there is of the dress,) and the accompanying goddesses are a set of pretty girls of great attraction. Righton is very funny, and Delehanty and Hengler are laughable in their respective character songs and dances. The Brennans are quite a feature of the entertainment, which is very similar to that of the Adelphi troupe which appeared here three or four weeks ago. The dancing is very good, and to-night another large audience may be expected.

QUICK WORK.—One day last week a car on the Portland & Rochester railroad arrived at 9 o'clock A. M., and was discharged and reloaded and dispatched at 12. At 4.50 P. M. the same car was back in the depot with another freight, and at 5.30 it took out of town its fourth freight for the day. At Buxton Centre the man who has charge of the freight at that station, loaded the same car eight days out of ten, and the two remaining days the car did the same relative amount of service, but was loaded by another man. One day last week eleven cars were loaded out at the Portland station. These items show that the P. & R., for a short road, is kept pretty busy, and we understand that ten new box cars are being constructed at the Company's shop in this city to supply the increasing damand for transportation. The passenger travel, we understand, is better than at the same season last year.

LARCENY.—Yesterday morning on board the steamer City of Richmond, one Bryant Hogan broke open a valise and took therefrom a sum of money. He was taken into custody and after examination before Judge Morris was bound over in the sum of $200. Hogan belongs in Boston.

IMPORTATIONS.—Sugar and Molasses imported into the port of Portland from January 1st to April 16, 1870, as compared with the same period of 1869:

	SUGAR.		MOLASSES.
1870	7,896,263	$353,746	1,894,660	$510,102

THE STORM.—The storm which has prevailed here ever since Sunday afternoon has been quite severe, especially as it has been accompanied by a strong wind from ENE, and blowing at times a furious gale. Monday night it was very boisterous, and the tides were unusually high, and some damage has been done in the harbor. A fleet of coasters and fishermen at anchor in the lower harbor felt the force of the gale considerably. A number of them dragged their anchors, and got afoul of each other, grinding and chafing and carrying away rigging and small spars. Brig Wreath, at anchor off Fish Point, parted her moorings and drifted up the harbor as far as Central wharf, where she was secured. British bark Maria, which had discharged a cargo of salt at the lower end of Central wharf, bumped against the wharf until she started several streaks of her planking and chafed her sides badly, at the same time injuring the wharf much. About fifty feet of the lower end of Long Wharf was torn up by the force of the sea; and several other wharves in the city were slightly injured. On the back side of the city the water overflowed the Dump in some places.

The Kennebec was quite high at noon yesterday, and rapidly rising. At Gardiner some fears were entertained of serious damage by the freshet. At Augusta it was thought the remaining part of the Kennebec Dam was in danger.

The Androscoggin was also quite high, as well as the smaller streams along the line of the railroads. There is an immense body of water in the Presumpscot and Royal's rivers, and the low lands and roads in the neighborhood of these streams are overflowed.

THE CAPTURE OF THE AUTHORS OF THE KING OUTRAGE.—We are informed the authors of the King outrage were captured in this wise. Officer Rich, from some conversation he had with a man, got an inkling that the parties were over to Deering's pasture. Accordingly, accompanied by officers Hall, Stover and Hanson, he proceeded over to the Deering farm and there the officers encountered a son of Leairds who would give them no information. Officer Hanson concluded to arrest young Leaird, who then said if they would go to the house where his father boarded at five o'clock in the morning they might learn something. Accordingly they went and got Stewart, who said that Leaird was going on the train to Gardiner that morning and that the other two, Marsh and Attrick would be found over in Cape Elizabeth. Officer Hall laid in wait at Morrill's Corner and caught Leaird when the train arrived there, and Deputy Decelle and another officer proceeded to Cape Elizabeth and hunted round after Marsh and Attrick and had tracked them to the house in Cape Elizabeth where Deputy Sterling and officer Adams, who had received later information, had arrested them about ten minutes previous. The story of the injured man and the prisoners go to palliate the story as originally told. It is to the effect that all the parties were intoxicated and that King had promised to treat and afterwards refused to fulfil his promise, and that the hanging him over the bridge railing and throwing him over the fence was not done with any idea of injuring him. It only shows what injury a man may do unintentionally to another when intoxicated.

ACCIDENT ON THE PORTLAND AND ROCHESTER RAILROAD.—The first train out of Portland Tuesday morning on this road encountered a washout near South Waterboro station.—The engine and baggage car passed safely over the gap, but when the passenger car got over the break the rails on one side gave way and the car tipped off and fell on its side. One or two persons were slightly bruised. The train was running at moderate speed, and this fact will perhaps account for the little injury sustained by the passengers. The accident delayed travel about five hours, and there was no in train at noon nor out train at 2 o'clock. The break in the road was repaired at once.

Mr. Frank Palmer of Moderation Village had his head badly cut and his arm slightly injured. Mr. Quinby, the Superintendent of the road, was in the car and was slightly injured. Conductor O'Brion was on the platform and jumped off. The engine bent the rail, the baggage car broke the rail, and the trucks and frame went to the right and the car to the left, and laid in the position as described above.—Little damage was done to the car.

Cape Elizabeth Ferry.

To the Editor of the Press.

In your issue of April 19th it was stated that at an adjourned meeting of the citizens of Cape Elizabeth, I said "that the town had voted to lay out a street from Main street to Ferry landing, and had also appropriated $200 to assist in repairing the wharf, &c.," all of which is incorrect. Towns, as far as I am informed, do not usually vote to lay out or build streets before they are reported on by the Selectmen, at a regular meeting of the town, which has not been done in this case. I did state at that meeting that the Selectmen had given notice of their intention to lay out a town way from Front street to Ferry landing, and thought it the duty of the town to aid in establishing a good and permanent Ferry, and had no doubt that it would, if the citizens of Ferry Village did their duty. I made no mention of the town appropriating $200 for repairs on wharf, &c. Hoping ere long that we shall see a good and substantial Ferry, and that Portland will not withhold her co-operation and assistance in establishing the same,

I remain, yours respectfully,
April 19. A. TILTON.

[Our reporter had no intention of misrepresenting what Mr. Tilton said, as no doubt was the case with the reporters of the other papers, and this statement, made by all of them, was probably owing to a misunderstanding.]

NEWCOMB'S MINSTRELS, with the genuine Chinese Giant Chang, and lady Chang King Foo, will occupy City Hall to-morrow and Friday evenings. It is some two years since "The Newcombs" were here, and also the first appearance of "The Celestials." We give the following from the Cleveland Herald:

NEWCOMBS AND THE GIANT.—The most thoroughly satisfied audience of the season graced Brainard's Hall Monday evening to enjoy the music and extravagances of the favorite Newcombs and to feast their wondering eyes on the veritable giant Chang. Humbug may do once in a while, but it can't win in Cleveland any length of time. The people like real merit and for that reason they always welcome the Newcombs as often as they come, with their fullest houses and their heartiest approbation. In all things pertaining to minstrelsy they are up to the demands of the time. The enormous representative of the "Celestials," Chang, is a pleasing reality. He is a veritable giant, measuring eight feet in height, of pleasant manners, jolly face, and not ungraceful carriage. As he moved among the audience his immensity stood out in strong contrast as compared with even tall men. Not a man stood by him who reached higher than his armpits. His wife, who appeared upon the stage with him, is the first Chinese woman ever seen in the city, and in the peculiar dress of her country excited much curiosity.

ACCIDENT.—As Mr. Fletcher, of the firm of Fletcher & Co., was riding to his store yesterday morning, the bolt which secures the body of the carriage gave way, and the after part of the vehicle upset and Mr. Fletcher was thrown violently against the hook on which the reins rest, receiving a severe gash on his forehead. It was a narrow escape from more serious consequences.

SHOULD the weather be suitable this evening the exhitition at Pine street Church can but be a fine one. In addition to the pieces mentioned in yesterday's PRESS by "Friendly," there are others, and the "Echo" among them, just as good. The exercises are to be short and full of interest. HOPEFUL.

THERE were three wash-outs on the Grand Trunk Railroad reported last night, and at midnight the agents of the Company were collecting their laborers for the purpose of having the damages repaired.

THE Unitarian Society of Kennebunk village have given the Rev. Charles C. Vinal an invitation to become their pastor. It is understood that the installation will take place on Wednesday, April 27th, at 2 o'clock P. M.

PERSONAL.—One of the publishers of the New York Inquirer is in the city for the purpose of writing up a sketch of the place for his paper. The chief object of his visit is to introduce to our business men a new and valuable advertising medium for free circulation throughout the city and suburbs. The Inquirer is a large weekly, independent in politics, and both a commercial and useful family newspaper.

THE auction sale of Furniture by Geo. W. Parker & Co., is postponed to Saturday next, at 11 o'clock.

ATTENTION is called to the "Personal" advertisement in another column.

REMEMBER the Exhibition Ball by Gee & Harnden's juvenile class at City Hall this evening. It will be the finest affair of the season.

MR. C. C. TOLMAN offers for sale a new kind of stove, which is complete for its kind, and well worth the attention of the public. See advertisement.

IF YOU WANT RELIEF from that distressing Cough, or those shooting pains in the Chest or Side, get the White Pine Compound. For sale at all the Apothecaries.

JOB PRINTING.—Send your orders for Job Printing to the Daily Press Printing House where they will be promptly attended to at the lowest possible rates. WM. M. MARKS.

HARNESS AND CARRIAGE MAKERS will do well to call at the New Carriage Repository 56 Union St., before buying their Dasher Lr Enameled Cloth and Harness Lr.] apr19-d2t

DISCONTINUED.—The use of the dirty, hair staining preparations, since the introduction of Phalon's Vitalia, or Salvation for the Hair. With marvellous precision it produces the exact shade of color desired, and is literally transparent and undefiling. Sold by all druggists and fancy goods dealers. ap12eod1w

LEWISTON, April 19.—The Supreme Judicial Court commenced its session in Auburn today, Judge Danforth presiding. There are about 300 cases on the docket.

It has been raining here all day and the river is rapidly rising.

A drunken man came through on the Maine Central to-day, and after frightening the passengers and breaking some of the car windows, was quietly taken possession of by our police. H.

XLIst CONGRESS—Second Session.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—Mr. Morrill, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported back various executive communications upon Indian Affairs. Referred to Committee on Indian Affairs.

The Committee on Foreign Relations reported a substitute for the joint resolution relative to a voyage for Arctic explorations. It appropriates $100,000 and authorizes the President to detail a public vessel and officers for the service and appoint the person he deems most fitted to command the expedition.

Mr. Sumner presented four petitions asking appointment by the President of a Land Commissioner, through which the recently enslaved people shall obtain homesteads.

Several bills were introduced and referred, including one to enforce the 15th amendment.

Mr. Chandler asked unanimous consent to amend the resolution passed yesterday, directing an inquiry as to whether corrupt means had been attempted to influence the votes of Senators on the Georgia bill. His amendment was "that said committee be instructed to inquire whether the rebels of the South have used any improper or corrupt means to secure the adoption of the so-called Bingham amendment."

Mr. Terry objected.

Mr. Chandler subsequently offered a resolution directing the President of the United States to appoint two or more commissioners or other diplomatic agents to open negotiations with the people of the Winnepeg country with a view to the annexation of that district to the United States, either as a territory or as a State. Laid over.

At 1 o'clock the Georgia bill was taken up. Mr. Davis yielded the floor to Mr. Fowler, who denied that secret organizations existed to the extent or of the character represented.

The debate on the bill continued through the afternoon and late into the evening session, Mr. Schurz making an earnest argument against further Congressional interference in Georgia, and Mr. Trumbull closing the discussion in a speech of three hours long in support of the same position. Applause in the galleries followed Mr. Trumbull's speech, and at 11.20 o'clock the Senate proceeded to vote on the bill and amendments.

Mr. Wilson moved to strike out Mr. Bingham's proviso and insert a provision extending the term of the Legislature until 1872.

Mr. Pomeroy moved to amend Mr. Wilson's amendment by substituting therefor his amendment declaring the existing government of Georgia provisional and constituting the State the third military district, and providing for the election of a legislature November 15th, 1870. Argeed to; 37 to 24.

Mr. Wilson's amendment as amended by Mr. Pomeroy, and involving the striking out of Mr. Bingham's amendment, was adopted, 36 to 23; the only changes from the previous vote being that Brownlow voted aye, Mr. Trumbull nay and Mr. Ramsay did not vote.

Mr. Wilson moved to postpone the further consideration of the bill indefinitely. Lost, 23 to 39.

Mr. Sumner moved to adjourn, remarking that the bill has been so changed that it would not be known by the oldest inhabitants.—(Laughter.) The motion was withdrawn.

Mr. Pomeroy moved his amendment as a substitute for the whole bill. Carried—38 to 23.

Mr. Drake's amendment, authorizing the President to suppress violence and suspend the habeas corpus was adopted—32 to 26.

The bill was read a third time and passed—27 to 25.

Adjourned at 2.15 A. M.

HOUSE.

Mr. Butler, of Massachusetts, offered a resolution relating to internal taxation, abolishing the income tax, &c. Referred to Committee on Ways and Means.

Mr. Jones, of Kentucky, asked leave to offer a resolution reciting that by the act of Feb. 25, 1866, it is provided that the duties on imports shall be paid in coin, which shall be set apart as a special fund and applied first to the payment of the interest on the bonds and notes of the United States; second, to the purchase or payment of one per cent. per annum of the national debt as a sinking fund; the residue to be placed in the Treasury; and instructing the Secretary of the Treasury to inform the House by what authority he has from time to time been appropriating that residue of coin or any money in the treasury for the purchase or redemption of United States bonds.

Mr. Kelsey, of New York, objected.

Mr. Twitchell, of Massachusetts, a member of the Post Office Committee, made some personal explanations of the matters of difference between himself and other members of the committee in reference to the investigation into the construction of the New York and Boston Post Offices. He occupied one hour in his remarks.

Mr. Farnsworth, of Illinois, chairman of the committee, replied.

The discussion was continued at length by the members of the committee, Mr. Farnsworth of Illinois repeatedly refusing Mr. Twitchell of Mass. the opportunity for an explanation, and finally the whole matter was laid on the table.

The remainder of the afternoon session was occupied in consideration of the contested election case of the 1st Louisiana district, Mr. Stevenson of Ohio speaking in favor and Mr. Kerr of Indiana against the report of the committee on elections, that J. H. Sypher, Republican, was entitled to a seat.

EVENING SESSION.

The House went into Committee of the Whole on the tariff bill. The duty on cast and scrap iron of every description was fixed at $5 per ton, and on wrought iron $6 per ton.

The House then adjourned.

The McFarland Trial.

ELEVENTH DAY.

NEW YORK, April 19.—The Court room was crowded with a large number of ladies occupying seats inside the railing in a good position to hear the evidence, which is now out to become interesting. The insanity plea is given up for a while, and testimony relating to the connection of Richardson with Mrs. McFarland is to be adduced.

Mrs. Mason was again placed on the stand and testified that Mrs. McFarland received two letters which came to the house of witness for her. They were post-marked Hartford, where Richardson was. Mrs. McFarland got the back room after Mr. Mason left it, and Richardson arrived soon after. Richardson came sooner than witness expected. He arrived in the night time; did not know who let him in. Mrs. McFarland told witness that he was going to Boston. Witness remembered Mrs. McFarland telling her that she would not live with her husband any more. Witness remonstrated with her saying that McFarland was a very devoted husband. Mr. McFarland came to her house and went with witness to Mrs. McFarland's room; saw the prisoner take out some letters from her writing desk; they were the letters witness heard read from Mrs. Calhoun and Mrs. Sinclair. He took out of the trunk a likeness of Richardson, which he put back again. McFarland was very much agitated during the search. Prisoner asked witness how it was that Mrs. McFarland came back, and witness explained as she testified previously. Witness told McFarland of her seeing Richardson in Mrs. McFarland's room. Mrs. McFarland breakfasted with Richardson three days after she came back to live in the house. The breakfast was cooked by Mrs. McFarland. Witness remembered of Richardson taking a piece of paper of some clothes that the washerwoman brought in. Both Richardson and Mrs. McFarland's clothes were in the basket.

Mr. Graham here read a list of the clothes, showing what they consisted of.

Cross-examined by Judge Davis.—Is a married lady. Mrs. Farland made arrangements for herself and McFarland. They paid twelve dollars per week and found their own food. They occupied the back parlor and extension; the extension led out of the house; it was not the usual way out of the house; was not used as a bed-room but as a work-room. The rooms of witness were on the third floor; she also occupied the basement. Witness spent her evenings at home. Knew Mrs. McFarland was engaged at Niblo's. Mrs. McFarland went out about half past 6 or 7 o'clock; could not tell exactly; only Mr., Mrs. and Percy McFarland were in witness' house. Never saw Danny; understood that he was at his grandfather's; he had been sent there some two or three weeks before the McFarlands came to board with witness. Mr. McFarland was alone in the house while Mrs. McFarland was at the theatre. Percy used to be put to bed about 9 o'clock. He never was put to bed before his mother went out. Percy was a very intelligent boy. He remained at home during the day; did not go to school. Mrs. McFarland would go out and leave Percy alone on some occasions. Richardson came to board about two week after the McFarlands did. He said he would have three persons with him. They did come about 9 o'clock every morning. Did not see Richardson directing to a stenographer. Mr. McFarland was at home every night. Witness never remembered him to be away an evening. Did not know what his office hours were. He used sometimes to come home at 2 o'clock, but generally at 4. Only remember of one occasion on which Mr. McFarland went out after he came home in the evening; that time he went to market. Mrs. McFarland used to come home after witness had retired for the night. Witness went to bed about 9 o'clock. Mrs. McFarland generally did the cooking. Witness saw McFarland often doing it himself. Witness was not told to knock. Mr. Richardson went to Hartford about a week after Mrs. McF. left the house. Some of Mrs. McF.'s property remained in their room after Mrs. McF. left. She took away some things in a bag and sent a colored boy after other things. Mrs. Sinclair came and took away some of Mrs. McF.'s clothes; also the only two trunks that remained in the room.—When Mrs. McF. came back to the witness's house she told the witness that her engagement at Niblo's would soon terminate and that she would go to her mother's, Mrs. Sage.

Mr. Graham objected to his assuming that the trunk was broken open.

Recorder Hackett remarked that he did not think the cross-examination pursued by Judge Davis was justified, as it did not refer to anything that was communicated to McFarland, and that they were not trying anything about the connection of Richardson and Mrs. McFarland.

On resuming the cross-examination, Judge Davis was about to question witness relative to the facts connected with the first shooting, when Mr. Graham objected.

The court excluded all questions touching on this matter, as it was a new matter which was not communicated to Mr. McFarland.

The court here took a recess.

John D. Morris testified that he was a "fifteenth amendment," and came from Washington to attend the trial. Saw Richardson and Mrs. McF. together at Mrs. Sinclair's house during Christmas, 1867, and several times after, often for an hour at a time. Mrs. McF. would come first and then Richardson. Witness saw Mrs. McF. kiss Richardson. Saw their arms around each other. Was a witness in the habeas corpus case.

Mrs. Charity Anderman lived at Newark, N. J., in 1868. Knew a family named Gilbert. Saw Mrs. McF. there with her little boy Danny. Mrs. McF. remained there three or four months. Richardson came there. Witness saw Richardson present Mrs. McF. with a bouquet and kiss her. Richardson used to remain there during the night.

Mrs. Anne Collaham corroborated the previous witness, adding that Richardson came to Gilbert's as often as three times a day, and Mrs. McF. seemed heavy, diamond ring. Mr. Gerry offered the testimony of a policy of life insurance on Richardson's life, taken by himself and endorsed in favor of Mrs. Abbie S. McFarland.

The Recorder said he could not in justice to the memory of Richardson, who was dead and could not defend himself, allow the testimony of these witnesses to be taken as conclusive of his guilt, and therefore he should exclude this life insurance policy as testimony. The court then adjourned.

The defence will close to-morrow.

MEDICAL.

ADDRESS

To the Nervous and Debilitated,

Whose sufferings have been protracted from hidden causes, and whose cases require prompt treatment to render existence desirable: If you are suffering, or have suffered, from involuntary discharges, what effect does it produce on your general health? Do you feel weak, debilitated, easily tired? Does a little extra exertion produce palpitation of the heart? Does your liver, or urinary organs, or your kidneys, frequently get out order? Is your urine sometimes thick, milky or flocky, or is it ropy on rettling? Or does a thick scum rise to the top? Or is a sediment at the bottom after it has stood awhile? Do you have spells of short breathing or dyspepsia? Are your bowels constipated? Do you have spells of fainting, or rushes of blood to the head? Is your memory impaired? Is your mind constantly dwelling on this subject? Do you feel dull, listless, moping, tired of company, of life? Do you wish to be left alone, to get away from everybody? Does any little thing make you start or jump? Is your sleep broken or restless? Is the lostre of your eye as brilliant? The bloom on your cheek as bright? Do you enjoy yourself in society as well? Do you pursue your business with the same energy? Do you feel as much confidence in yourself? Are your spirits dull and flagging, given to fits of melancholy? If so do not lay it to your liver or dyspepsia. Have you restless nights? Your back weak, your knees weak, and have but little appetite, and you attribute this to dyspepsia or liver complaint?

Now, reader, self-abuse, venereal diseases badly cured, and sexual excesses, are all capable of producing a weakness of the generative organs. The organs of generation, when in perfect health, make the man Did you ever think that those bold, defiant, energetic, persevering, successful business men are always those whose generative organs are in perfect health? You never hear such men complain of being melancholy, of nervousness, of palpitation of the heart. They are never afraid they cannot succeed in business; they don't become sad and discouraged, they are always polite and pleasant in the company of ladies, and look you and them right in the face—none of your downcast looks or any other meanness about them. I do not mean those who keep the organs inflated by running to excess. These will not only ruin their constitutions, but also those they do business with or for.

How many men, from badly cured diseases, from the effects of self-abuse and excesses, have brought about that state of weakness in those organs that has reduced the general system so much as to induce almost every other disease—idiocy, lunacy, paralysis, spinal affections, suicide, and almost every other form of disease which humanity is heir to, and the real cause of the trouble scarcely ever suspected, and have doctored for all but the right one.

Diseases of these organs are usually accompanied by a Diuretic. HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU is the great Diuretic, and is a certain cure for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel, Dropsy, Organic Weakness, Female Complaints, General Debility, and all diseases of the Urinary Organs, whether existing in Male or Female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing.

If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or Insanity may ensue. Our flesh and blood are supported from these sources, and the health and happiness, and that of Posterity, depends upon prompt use of a reliable remedy.

Helmbold's Extract Buchu, established upward of 19 years, prepared by H. T. HELMBOLD, Druggist, 594 Broadway, New York, and 104 South 10th street, Philadelphia, Pa. PRICE—$1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50, delivered to any address. Sold by all Druggists everywhere.

☞ None are Genuine unless done up in steel-engraved wrapper, with fac-simile of my Chemica Warehouse, and signed H T. HELMBOLD

THE notions that prevailed so long in regard to the causes of failing sight have all been overturned by modern science. Instead of any change taking place in the eye-ball it is all confined to the most sensitive parts of the interior of the eye and on that account when glasses are needed requires the most careful and exact treatment.

The undersigned gives special attention to the fitting of glasses not only for the ordinary failure of sight but for the abnormal deformities of Hyperutropia, Myopia and Astigmatisus.

The New England Family Medicine

Dodd's Nervine!

And Invigorator.

A Thorough Tonic and Stomachic.

And expressly adapted to the relief and permanent cure of all forms of Nervous Disease, &c., &c.

Coughs, Colds, Fevers, Agues, Biliousness, Constipation, Diarrhœa, Neuralgia, Female Weaknesses, Headache, Convulsions. Sleeplessnes, Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Consumption, Fainting Fits, Palpitation, Restlessness, Dizziness, Children's Troubles, etc., etc., etc.

Take Care of Yourself.

DODD'S NERVINE is a Pure Tonic—harmonizes perfectly with the Nerve Fibre—gives increased energy to the Stomach, Liver, Bowels and other viscera—and supplies fresh life for the waste that is constantly taking place. It operates soothingly—is as pleasant to take as any wine, and with Steep and Good Digestion, which it promotes, restores the afflicted to sound health of body and quietness of mind. It contains no opium, mercury or strychnine, (so often used for nervous complaints,) and is wholly free from any deleterious drugs whatsoever. Tens of thousands are testifying to its curative powers. See pamphlet accompanying each bottle.

Some Folks Can't Sleep Nights.

Dodd's Nervine is a COMPLETE SPECIFIC for sleeplessness. It soothes the throbbing muscle like magic, and tranquilizes the mind. And everybody knows that good sleep is better than all medicines.

Ladies in Poor Health.

Look out for Colds!

It is proverbial that people treat a cold (and the generally accompanying cough) as something that will cure itself; but neglect is serious and sometimes fatal. The fame of DODD'S NERVINE in the relief of colds is established. Use this standard remedy, and so far abstain from liquids of all kinds as to keep somewhat thirsty for a few days, and the worst cold will soon be gone.

Children's Diseases.

For WHOOPING COUGH Dodd's Nervine is administered with unexampled success. Mothers, remember this, and save your little ones the agony of a most distressing complaint. It also works admirably in Measles, bringing out the rash well and leaving the bowels free and healthful. See recommendations in pamphlet. For the diseases which afflict CHILDREN WHEN TEETHING nothing can furnish more instant or grateful relief. Remember, it contains no opium in any form.

Be Careful What Medicines You Take.

Alcoholic stimulants are injurious to the nervous health, and are always followed by depressing Reaction. The strength that Dodd's Nervine gives is the strength of health and comes to stay. Beware of the whiskey preparations that have laid the foundations of so many habits of intemperance. Whether under the name of Bitters or otherwise, let the villainous compounds alone. Better die of honest disease than be burn up by the fires of alcohol. For the ingredients that compose Dodd's Nervine see pamphlet on each bottle. For sale by Druggists and Country Stores. Price One Dollar.
